

South Carolina Environmental Conference

About SCEC

From its inaugural year in 1990, the South Carolina Environmental Conference (SCEC) has been growing and building on success for the last 28 years.

This popular annual event provides environmental and water professionals from across the southeast an opportunity to receive up to 12 hours of professional training, meet with equipment and service vendors and network with other professionals in a fun and educational atmosphere.

The SCEC is held over three full days during mid-March each year in Myrtle Beach, SC. The 2019 SCEC will be held March 10-13, 2019, where it is expected that over 1,600 professionals will be in attendance at the Myrtle Beach Convention Center.
