

Each fall, nearly 30 speakers, 100 exhibitors and 300 utility employees convene in Myrtle Beach for SCRWA's 3-day annual conference. Monday is a day of networking and relaxation with options for sporting clays and golfing.

This is followed by Tuesday's exhibit hall day, with nearly 100 water and wastewater-specific vendors providing attendees with information on cutting-edge products and new technology to help you with your system's needs, plus training sessions held by sponsors, offering attendees a chance for CEUs. All day, door prizes are also given out as an added bonus. This fun-filled day ends with an evening social!

The last day of the event includes morning and afternoon training sessions led by the industry's best, offering a chance for CEUs in 3 tracts, including: Office Management/IT, Infrastructure & Operations and Water Resources. Training day also includes a keynote speaker luncheon with annual awards presented to systems, all nominated by you. Ask your counterparts... this event is not to be missed!
